About NEWWAY

Newway Consulting, Singapore was founded in 1995 by David Haw & Associates. The company is truly national, managing major clients in many sectors that include notable public and private sector organizations. When it comes to Information Technology, Marine, Financial or Health Care sector, you have experts available dime-a-dozen. A plethora of service only complicates the effort of designing the right solution. What really matters is a thorough understanding of the required business needs, and then creating a smart solution that takes care of present and future needs, while keeping the time and the costs to the minimum.

"We are a company that is in the business of identifying, locating, and evaluating some of the Singapore strongest titles. We are hired by finest corporations to separate those professionals that excel from those who are average in skills."

At NEWWAY, we understand this all too well. As fast growing PROFESSIONAL SERVICE PROVIDER, we focus on one thing: SERVICE. For us at NEWWAY, Return on Investment is not just a jargon, nor is it a long-term expectation, as we strongly believe in identifying the perfect match for your business requirement. We at NEWWAY help organizations maximize the value of our services and gain competitive edge in their business. Understanding your business requirements, offering you services are our prime concerns.
